ISTHMIAN CANAL EXPOSITION, TAMPA, FLA.

June 30, 1906.

Isthmian Canal Exposition, Tampa, Fla.

Preamble.

Whereas it is fitting that the commencement of the work on the Panama Canal should be celebrated in a suitable manner to the end that the importance of this great isthmian waterway may be accentuated and the sentiment in favor of its early completion fostered and kept alive; and

Whereas the city of Tampa, in the State of Florida, by reason of its being farther to the southward and nearer to said canal than any other city in the country having a deep and commodious harbor, reached by ample railroad facilities, as also on account of its salubrious climate and the spirit of American progress among its citizens, manifest in the rapid growth and development of the city and her commerce, affords a suitable place for such an exhibition; and

Time of exposition.

Whereas it has been determined to hold such an exposition at Tampa, Florida, during the months of January, February, March, April and May, Anno Domini nineteen hundred and eight, and

Whereas his excellency Napoleon B. Broward, Governor of the State of Florida, did on the thirtieth day of December, nineteen hundred and five, issue his proclamation calling an isthmian exposition to be held in the City of Tampa, commencing in the month of January, anno Domini nineteen hundred and eight, for the purpose aforesaid, and inviting the governors of the several States comprising the United States of America, as well as the governors of the Territories of the United States, to secure the cooperation of their State Legislatures in aid of said exposition by participating therein and sending exhibits of their resources to said exposition; Therefore be it

Invitation to governors of States, etc.

Resolved by the House of Representatives (the Senate concurring),
